San Francisco, Dec. 5.—Duke Kahanamoku, the world's champion awimmer, on his way home to Honolulu after a series of exhibitions on the Pacific Const. came near being left alone in the middle of the Pacific in unwitting punishment for a daring bit of foolery. Passengers on the steamer Wilhelmian, which arrived from Honolulu, brought the story. Kahanamoku sailed from here November 4 on the Matsonia, of the same line as the Wilhelmian. Four days out from San Francisco the two ships passed each other and stopped to transfer a stownway caught aboard the outbound Matsonia. While they lay to Kahanamoku leaped overboard and began showing off his provess as a suimmer to the other passengers. Before the officers knew he was overboard the two vessels began to get under way again in opposite directions, and it was necessary to lower a lifebout to bring him back.

but it takes time for cement to set, and we may be delayed."

Just what card will be offered the fans

for the opening date is yet a matter of doubt. Tommy Lowe or Gunner Selman will be the main attraction for local lovers of the sport. If Lowe receives the honor of setting the new clubhouse off on the career, he may be matched with Andy Cortes or Knockout Brown. Cortes, it will be recalled, battled Lowe to a standard at the old Ardmore Club, and Convert Racing Yacht Into he is most anxious for another chance
